From Baltimore. WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.

BALTIMORE, June 16, 10 A. M. City thronged and excitement great. Cancuses now in session. Fillmore considered out of the question The contest will be between Webster and Scott. Webster's chance considered best, as he has friends among both the Scott and Fillmore men. Some Scott men are sanguine, but most are bent on defeating Fillmore.

Meetings of the friends of Webster and Fillmore are now being held in separate rooms in Carroll Hall.

A committee was appointed of one from each State to select permanent officers. Sevier, of Louisiana, protested against the organization, as having taken place before 12 o'clock. The Convention confirmed the or-

Improved Fire and Water Proof Composition Roofing.

We desire to direct the particular attention of the Public to our Composition Roofing, in the Manufacture of which we have been extensively engaged during several years past. It has been but recently that this article was first introduced by us in this State. It was then new, had no influence in its favor but its own merit, and did not fail to receive its full share of the opposition which is so generally and indiscriminately urged egainst new improvements, or innovation upon old established custom. The fact that it has, under these circumstances, solely upon its own merits, and in so short space of time, overrun all opposition, and grown into almost universal favor, is sufficient evidence of the judgment of the public as to its utility and value.

Having had our Roof tested under every variety of circumstances, we confidently offer it to the public as a mode of Roofing unobjectionable in every important particular, while it combines in a
